The Junction City Union says that it hears of one new drug store opening with eight barrels of beer, three barrels of whisky, and one box. The box probably contained cork, very essential in a drug store.

Now that the Republicans have called their county convention for Monday, August 31st, would it not be well for the Democratic Central Committee to call a meeting to discuss the time for holding their convention.

Mr. Levi Hecner, brother of Mrs. L. H. Latta, died suddenly at the home of his son Knox, in the south part of the county, last Monday. He had been afflicted for years with heart disease, of which he died. He was 72 years old.

The notice of W. H. Smith in last week's Reflector should have read that Mr. Smith was with Hamaker & Co. two and a half years and Bonebrake & Co. four and a half years, instead of saying seven years with Hamaker & Co.

The People's Protective Association of Garfield, will meet at the Bonebrake school house on Friday, August 14th. All members are requested to be present. J. A. K. GIBBS, Sec.

The Sabetha Republican says: "That a careful estimate shows that the probable judge of Mitchell county actually takes in fourteen dollars a day from the druggist." Does this look like prohibition was a success in Kansas?

The merchant men and solid taxpayers, are beginning to inquire into the course of irresponsible newspaper men's opposition to the advancement of our beautiful city.—Gazette.

Just so, and after inquiring into the cause they cast their votes against the bonds thus endorsing the position taken by the Reflector. Poor old Gazette, seek your head again.

Prof. T. F. Hamblin, of Ottawa University, will preach at the Bonebrake school house, Garfield township, next Sunday afternoon, Aug. 9th, at three o'clock. In the evening Prof. Hamblin will preach in the Baptist church at Solomon City. Ottawa University is a school established by the Baptists of Kansas, and at the present time is in a flourishing condition. Prof. Hamblin spent last Sunday at Minneapolis.

Memorial services, under the auspices of the G. A. R., will be held in the Opera House Saturday afternoon, commencing at two o'clock. It is expected that this will be the largest attended and most impressive service ever held in Abilene. The services will consist of singing, addresses by invited gentlemen from other places and the clergy of this city, and the Grand Army of the Republic ritual and music.

Mr. L. E. Conner, in the employ of Hamaker & Co. while out driving last Sunday evening with Dan McMeator, was seriously injured by the buggy upsetting at the corner of Hazlett's store. He was badly cut and lacerated on the forehead and face. While his injuries are of a serious nature it is hoped that he will recover, but at this writing

To-day, Thursday, will give all lovers of good horses an opportunity to witness some fine races, under the auspices of the Dickinson County Fair. The races will take place at the fair grounds and horses will be called at half-past one o'clock.

1st. Race between five year old stallions—Frank Stewart vs. Treble Star, stakes $150.
2d. Race between four year olds—Bird II. vs. Lady Simpson, stakes $150.
3d. Race between three year olds—Maud Neely vs. Daisy Harris, stakes $150.

The above races are made legal, last 2 in 3 to horses. This contest is between Abilene and Solomon City. It is town against town, driver against driver, and horses against horses, and will be trotted for blood.

The storm last Thursday afternoon was remarkable for the electric display. There was an immense fall of water and a moderate wind, but the lightning was terrific. The following damage was done: The telephone at the Court House was damaged and some of the plaster from the hall wall thrown in all directions; the central telephone office was badly damaged and if it had not been for prompt action the Opera House would likely have been destroyed by fire; a new house, nearly completed on south Buckeye, cor. 7th, was also struck by lightning, tearing away part of the chimney and passing down splintered inside of the house was rendered senseless for a time by the shock. The house of Mr. Jas. Fuller, living in Ottawa Co., 17 miles north of Solomon, was struck by an electric ball. The family was visiting a neighbor at the time and escaped uninjured. Horses and furniture reported a total wreck.

The greatest opposition to voting bonds is coming from the class of persons who have the least regard doing much of the jingling of the same. The solid citizens, who pay the greatest proportion of taxes, are the most unobtrusive in favor of their adoption, while seven out of ten who oppose them, either pay no taxes at all, or belong to the class who have been for years returning their property valuations at about one-fourth of their actual value. BATON ROUGE,.....OCT. 1, 1852.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the steamer Ben Adams in another column. Persons desiring a pleasure excursion to the town of Plaquemine could not get in better company for it, than will be on the Adams Saturday morning.

It affords us pleasure to welcome the return home of our esteemed friend and fellow-citizen. F. M. Young.

A Spanish steamer of war intended expressly for the defence of the Island of Cuba has just been launched in the Thomas.

There was great rejoicing and firing of cannon in cat-fish town yesterday, we heard it was the result of a pole raising.

THE PROGRESS OF FANATICISM.—

Communicated.

Mr. COMET.—On the recent visit of the Baton Rouge Whigs to Bayou Sara, I was somewhat surprised that not one of your numerous reporters was along, to give you an account of the proceedings. Supposing that the omission was unavoidable, and doubting not you would be glad to have the deficiency supplied, I make an attempt to furnish you with some of the leading incidents of that great expedition. The Baton Rouge steamer Ben Adams left her moorings at one o'clock, P. M., having on board the Scott & Graham Club and the Whig delegations of East and West Baton Rouge numbering in all about two hundred souls.

The passage though somewhat tedious was enlivened with speeches, songs and music at intervals, and the greatest harmony and good fellowship prevailed. Our Via-Via neighbor was first called on to make a speech and responded in good style, the call was then given for our worthy Mayor who made us a speech that awoke the slumbering echoes of the neighboring swamps and carried conviction and astonishment to all the resident alligators therein. After a speech by Hon. Alex. Barrow of West Baton Rouge and another by Mr. David Barrow came the great event of the day, viz: a speech of thrilling interest from that great bulwark of republican principles, the President of the Scott and Graham Club, Hamilton M. Pierce, Esq., a speech in which he demonstrated to the satisfaction of all present that Scott and Graham are true republicans, that our government is truly republican and that a republican form of government is—a government of republicans.

home by our party in the procession, the succession of cheers and songs and music alternately from the boat and the shore, the whizzing of rockets, the hoarse whistle of the steamer, are amongst the things that will never be forgotten by those who witnessed them.

The return home was one continual scene of merriment and rejoicing, singing, dancing and music were kept up without intermission till the time we reached Baton Rouge at the "dawning of the day." This trip will long be remembered with pleasure by those who enjoyed it, as one without a single incident or misfortune to mar their happiness. Each man endeavored to contribute to the pleasure of his fellows, and in his endeavors was highly successful. Yours

A petition has been put in circulation among the poorer classes in Paris, praying for the re-establishment of the Empire. It has been numerous signed and presented to Louis Napoleon, who replies that, when the general interest should be at stake he stood ready to anticipate public opinion, but in case of an interest which might appear personal, he would follow public opinion.

Luxurious Time Ball.—Accounts from England state that an electric time ball is to be put up on a prominent spot on South Foreland Point, near Dover, which will act simultaneously with the electric clocks at the Greenwich Observatory. The falling of this ball, and the simultaneous firing of a gun of electricity, will enable all vessels within ten miles, and those in the downs, to regulate their chronometer to a second.

Investigation against the legislative corruptionists and bribers; how he sacrificed all personal interests and jeopardized the lives of his patients that he might protect the humble homes and fortunes of the poor and needy, and all who know how he stood the terror of monopolists and crushing corporations, will be pleased to learn of this modest recognition of his abilities on the part of the citizens of Barnes county. And these same remarks would apply as justly to the Honorable H. S. Oliver, of Ransom county, with the exception, perhaps, of that which refers to the practice of medicine. But there were other traits of character and commendable deeds which won for Mr. Oliver the love and admiration of the husbandman and Christian. It is understood that Mrs. Simmons is an earnest worker in the Woman's Christian Temperance union. With a knowledge of this fact, it is easy to see how she would desire to deliver the presentation speech to Mr. Oliver. During all of that gentleman's stay in Bismarck he was the bright particular star of reform in all its millennium-promising phases. He not only refrained from mingling with the coarse and vulgar throng who so diligently skirmished for the hole in the bottom of the sea, but refused to accept a seat at any of the banquets where wine was served. Although the report was suppressed by some of his lobbying friends during the winter, it is said to be a fact that he did not miss a prayer meeting or service of song during the entire session, and the burden of his fervent supplications was a plea for the oppressed and weary tiller of the soil. Indeed, the people of Dakota will rejoice that the citizens of Barnes county have so neatly remembered these faithful servants and fearless champions of the agricultural interests of the domain.

Among the Embryonic Cities.

As a proof of the public spirit and patriotism of the Missouri slope, it may be stated that every town west of the coteaux indulged in a celebration, and at every dean received, it is expected that an order for his immediate shipment south will be forthcoming. Hunt's family are well-to-do. He left his home in Nashville, Tenn., four years ago, and has since been west, most of the time on the cattle ranches of Montana. Several weeks ago he arrived in Bismarck, and has since been entertaining his friends with popular songs, well sung. He is 30 years of age and weighs 210 pounds. Not a very sickly weight.

An Electric Ball.

During Tuesday night's storm a beautiful as well as an awe inspiring scene was presented to the gaze of those so fortunate as to be upon the street at the time. It was just after the flash of lightning and crash of thunder which made every one believe for an instant that he had been struck. No sooner did the thunder peal than a ball of fire, resembling a meteor, shot athwart the zenith, and rolling rapidly to the west, began to descend. Its starting point was in the east, and it began to descend while passing over the city, filling the startled spectator with feelings of terror. It descended rapidly, and as it passed through the air it produced a whizzing, sizzling sound, and threw off numerous sparks in its flight. With terrific force the glaring missile, hurled from some planetary wreck or produced by some strange freak of electricity, struck the Missouri river, about a quarter of a mile below the landing, the gurgle and momentary roar of the agitated waters being plainly heard on west Main street. The strange visitor appeared and disappeared in an instant, and no one will ever know what it was. But as electricity was playing havoc with the elements at the time, it is believed to have been some electric phenomenon.

Impudent Tramps.

On Tuesday morning two tramps visited the residence of Mr. A. N. Leslie and proceeded to take possession of the house. Mr. Leslie had left home, and taking advantage
